From the Pastor

Dear Friends in Christ,

Team Work makes the dream work as we so often say! It's cliché, a little annoying (Because the one saying it on any given project is usually the contributing the least; who has two thumbs point at himself... THIS GUY!) and, quite frankly, so overstated we simply don't use that phrase anymore. But I think we can come up with a new phrase that hits on the spot and describes the wonderful ministry happening here at Faith and beyond. Let me try out just a few on ya, "The community is communal!" Ok, maybe a little too Pravda for ya! How about, "The Saints Go Marching...in, out, up, down, and anywhere God needs us." Ok, clearly too long and not really clear! Last try, "Team Work Makes Our Dream Work!" Ok so I plagiarized a little bit, but you all know I am traditional and this will have to do!

So, are our dreams coming true? Yah, well sort of! We are getting the whole Trunk or Treat, Oktoberfest/ Reformation fest down to pretty good science and this year I am so pleased that our church members, and soon to be church members, are a

Financial Information

Amos 6:1a – “Woe to those who are at ease in Zion.” The Book of Amos is a warning to God’s people who have been given great material wealth. As Jesus Himself mentions, material blessings can turn into temptations – chiefly the temptation to think of ourselves as self-sufficient and independent. What does Amos suggest as a way to combat this temptation? First, faith in the Lord and dependence upon Him! And if our faith is right, we will want to follow the rest of Amos’ instructions – to bless the poor with our alms and to make sure the Lord’s House is properly cared for. In other words, we are called to align our actions with God’s priorities and put others ahead of ourselves.

LCMS Stewardship Ministry—October

“We Are All Beggars”

In the early morning hours of Feb. 18, 1546, Martin Luther closed his eyes forever. Before that happened, the hand that hammered the 95 Theses into the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg on Oct. 31, 1517, penned its final words: “We are all beggars. This is true.” And this is the truth that our Lord says makes you free.

Ironic, isn’t it? In order to be free, you must be a beggar. You must be utterly dependent and reliant upon God. This makes us uncomfortable – the way we’re uncomfortable when someone gets us a Christmas present when we haven’t gotten them one. We feel we owe them. And we don’t like being in someone’s debt like that.

But what Luther would remind us is that we are all indeed beggars. And we’re not just anyone’s beggars. We’re God’s beggars. Christ came for sinners. He came to seek and save the lost. He came to heal the sick and raise the dead. He came for sinners, and He dwells only with sinners.

If we are to be where He is, we must be willing to be counted among the lost, the sick, and the dead. We must be willing to be beggars. We must cry out for mercy, for grace, and for his undeserved love and kindness. We must be dependent solely on Him and what He gives.

And here’s the beauty: He gives us everything. Everything.

Forgiveness of sins, salvation from death and the devil, and eternal life. This isn’t because of any worthiness or merit in us. It is because of His divine goodness, mercy, and grace. On account of Christ’s death and resurrection, the Father forgives you, saves you, and is pleased with you. You receive His love, His righteousness, His holiness, His acceptance, and His inheritance. We are all beggars. This is true.

This is the heart and soul of Christianity and the lifeblood of the Christian Church. God justifies us and declares us innocent and righteous by His grace received through faith for the sake of Christ. This isn’t because of our works but because of His work on the cross. We, who once were enemies of God, are reconciled to Him and made to be His children.

This is what Luther pointed us to when He took up his pen for the last time and scribbled “We are all beggars. This is true.” We are beggars, but we are beggars of the God who does not ignore us and who doesn’t pass by us on the other side. We are beggars of the One who descended from heaven to make His dwelling with sinners.

We are beggars of Him who deigns to dwell with us, among us, and – yes – still in us by grace for Christ’s sake. For in the bread and cup that we bless we share together with Christ and each other the riches of God’s grace. The riches of this grace – the Gospel in sermon and absolution, in Baptism, and in Holy Communion – are so inexhaustible that our cups overflow. We, who are God’s beggars, are inexhaustibly satisfied, and we have something to give back in thanksgiving and praise.

big part of that. We have not had a PTL (Parent Teacher League) for a few years now, and some of our fantastic ladies, who are members of the church and patrons of the school, have gotten it up and running again. Their first challenge is Trunk or Treat and they are already doing a great job of working with the church and coordinating their efforts for what should prove to be another great celebration for the church, the school and the wider community around us! Be there or be square!!!

Next, we are so excited to have another DCE (Director of Christian Education) in the Circuit serving at Woodlands. This will help us to coordinate youth activities with other churches in the circuit. Our DCE, Mike, has always been awesome making sure the kids from St. Paul and Bethany can join our youth activities but now he will have another trained and commissioned youth worker to come alongside and support what he has built and make their dreams for youth ministry work not only for Faith, St. Paul's, Bethany, and Woodlands but the entire circuit as well.

Finally, for the first time in 13 years, the pastors at St. Paul, Bethany, and Faith will be sharing pulpits for our Advent Preparation and midweek worship leading up to the season of Christmas.

Logistically, it was just not possible in the past but now we have made a concerted effort to make this happen. This will make the worship experience more personal, as we set the theme, picked the worship and personally wrote the sermons. Your pastors are working together as a "Team to make the dream" of more expansive circuit ministry and ministry to all of central Florida and not just local mission.

"Team work makes our DREAM WORK" And our dream is: to be in closer relationship with Jesus who saves us from sin and bring others to HIM through the working of the Holy Spirit. So, make all of your wildest dreams come true right here at Faith and beyond!

Seeing it Through in 2022,
Pastor Kappel

Learn, Grow and Serve by Becoming a Stephen Minister

Do you have gifts for caring, encouragement, and listening? If so, please prayerfully consider becoming a Stephen Minister. Faith Lutheran will be training another class of Stephen Ministers this fall. Stephen Ministers provide emotional and spiritual support and care to people who are going through a difficult time, such as divorce, grief, hospitalization, unemployment, terminal illness, relocation, chronic illness, or loneliness.

To find out more about becoming a Stephen Minister or how you or someone you know could be matched with a Stephen Minister, talk with one of our Stephen Ministry Leaders, Barbara or Neal VanValkenburg.

Operation Christmas Child

Operation Christmas Child is a long-standing outreach sponsored by Samaritan's Purse.

The outreach has provided millions of boys and girls, aged 2-14 years, with an introduction to their loving Savior via a gift- and Bible storybook-filled shoebox. Children receive these gifts and take the storybook home to share with family members and friends.

If you are interested in filling a shoebox for a child, official boxes and information about how to fill one will be available at church services in October (you may also use your own shoebox). Return the filled box along with a donation of $10 to help with transportation costs (check written to Samaritan's Purse OR donated online at Shoebox Label Options (samaritanspurse.org) to Faith Lutheran Church by/on Sunday, November 13. Boxes will be delivered to an Operation Christmas Child collection site by Women's Guild members on Monday, November 14. For questions, please phone Jan Voigtman (352-284-9796).

Food Safety: Avoiding Food Poisoning

About 1 in 6 Americans will develop a case of food poisoning this year. Food poisoning is caused by a variety of bacteria, viruses, and parasites. People at special risk include children under 5 years and people over 65 years, pregnant women, and people with immune disorders or those receiving immunosuppressant treatments (like some cancer chemotherapies). There are several approaches to fending off food poisonings.

Wash hands, utensils, and surfaces often

Germs that can make you sick can survive in many places around your kitchen, including in/on your food, hands, utensils, cutting boards, and countertops. Make sure your hands, cooking utensils, and countertops are clean. Wash your hands for 20 seconds with plain soap and water before, during, and after preparing food; rinse then dry hands with a clean towel. Encourage children and adults to wash their hands before eating as well. Wash your pans, utensils, plates, bowls, cutting boards and countertops with hot, soapy water. Dry with clean towels. Using dishwasher cycles with hot water and drying temperatures is a great way to disinfect cooking implements.

Rinse fruits and vegetables under running water (no soap, bleach or produce-washing products are necessary). Use a clean vegetable brush on firm fruits and vegetables, like melon or squash. Dry produce on paper towels or clean cloths. DO NOT wash eggs, fish, poultry, or meat – washing these foods can spread harmful germs on your countertops.

Keep produce, raw flour, uncooked eggs, seafood, poultry and meat separate

Keep raw ingredients separate from each other, in your shopping cart and refrigerator – use plastic bags to separate these items. Keep eggs in their original carton in the main part of your refrigerator (not the door). Use separate cutting boards and plates for produce, meat, poultry, seafood, and eggs. Surprisingly, flour that has not been cooked can also be contaminated with harmful bacteria, such as E. Coli and Salmonella: another great reason NOT to eat raw cookie or cake dough!

Also use separate plates and utensils for cooked and raw foods. Don't reuse an unwashed plate for cooked meat that was also used to hold raw meat. Use hot, soapy water to thoroughly wash plates, utensils, and cutting boards that touched raw meat, poultry, seafood, eggs, or flour.

Cook foods to the correct temperature

Use a food thermometer to be sure your food is cooked to a safe temperature. Insert the thermometer in the thickest part of the food (not touching bone, fat, or gristle). Ensure the item cooked reaches the minimum temperature as suggested (see www.foodsafety.gov/food-safety-charts/safe-minimum-internal-temperatures ). Keep hot foods at 140°F or more using slow cookers or warming trays.

Chill and freeze

Bacteria that cause food poisoning multiply more rapidly between 40°F and 140°F. Make sure your refrigerator temperature is set at 40°F (or below) and your freezer to 0°F (or below). Perishable foods must be refrigerated at 2 hours. If the environmental temperature is above 90°F (like in a hot car or at a picnic), refrigerate it at 1 hour. Always thaw or marinate foods in the refrigerator. Freeze perishable foods if they will not be used within their “use by” dates; remember freezing does not kill germs but it should keep the food safe until it's cooked. Clear out your refrigerator at least once a week to dispose of foods and leftovers that may no longer be safe. See www.foodsafety.gov/food-safety-charts/cold-food-storage-charts for advice on how long to keep different foods. If in doubt, throw it out!

USHERS	Usher Team #1 (Jack Maines — Captain)

Ushers Needed

Do you have a desire to help and be of service at church? If you do, we have an opportunity for you. We are looking for more people willing to be an usher during our church services. What does an usher do? They help with collecting the offering, and dismissing the congregational members for communion. If you are interested, please let the church office know and we will work with you to get you assigned to an usher team. Thank you for your consideration!

Some Music Notes...

All of our parish musicians are working diligently on music for our weekly worship opportunities. The Adult Choir has picked up a couple new voices and plans stuff several weeks ahead at their rehearsals. The same is true for the Faith Ringers. We are so fortunate to have several instrumentalists in the congregation, and they practice regularly to offer a wide variety of music for worship. We are grateful for all those participants!!

The “Kids’ Choir”, meeting on Wednesdays after school, is really doing great. We have been so blessed to have many new kids in the group. They will be singing on Sunday before too many weeks. Our student string group, sponsored by the church, is really going great!! We have six new students joining the twelve carrying over from last year. They seem pretty committed, and we look forward to playing on a Spring program. I do thank Laurie Stevens and Marty Schubert, whose help is invaluable in working with these kids.

Thanks to all who are sharing their own gifts, and, as always, there is always room for more kids and adults in our groups. All are welcome and will certainly contribute greatly. Please know that you are welcome at any time!!
